

Terms of use

These terms of use entail the general terms related to the use of websites and services thereof (later "sites and services") maintained by the Student Village Foundation of Turku (later "TYS") at the address www.tys.fi, which the user commits to comply with by using the sites and services.

TYS has the right to change, at any time, the content of the sites and services and their availability or to cease publishing the sites and offering the services therein either temporarily or definitively. TYS also has the right, at any time, to change these terms of use.

Intellectual property rights

All material published on the sites and services is property of TYS protected by trademark law, copyright and/or other intellectual property rights, with the exception of services provided by third parties and possibly attached to the sites, such as map services. TYS reserves all rights to the material published on the sites and services therein.

The material published on the sites and services may be browsed and copied by printing or by downloading on a computer. However, the materials may only be used for non-commercial and personal purposes. Copies or parts thereof may not be sold or shared electronically or as paper copies for commercial purposes, nor may they be altered or attached to other materials or websites. Press releases may be published in media, provided that the reference is mentioned.

Limited liability

The sites and services are provided "as they are". TYS strives to ensure the availability of the sites and services and their uninterrupted and flawless use, as well as to ensure that any materials and information therein are up-to-date and correct. However, TYS is not liable for any direct, indirect, random, particular or vicarious damages, losses of profit or interruptions to business due to the availability of the sites and services, interruptions or incorrectness in their use or the materials and information therein, even if the possibility of such damages had been brought to TYS' attention.

The sites and services may contain links to websites and services therein maintained by outside parties (e.g. map service). Such links are services offered exclusively for the users, and TYS is not liable for these sites, their contents or correctness thereof, or the legality of registering of any personal data collected on said sites.

Processing of personal data (data protection)

TYS websites may contain services that require the processing of personal data. Personal data are mainly collected from the customers themselves and from e.g. the credit information register of Suomen Asiakastieto Oy and the population data system of the Population Register Centre. Personal data are used for e.g. managing customer relationships, customer satisfaction and other surveys and customer communications. Collected personal data form a part of TYS personal registers. Additional information on the use of personal data and descriptions of TYS personal registers can be found at the site www.tys.fi/tietosuoja.
